

KING BETTER; REVIEW HELD.

Colonials Give Three Cheers for His Majesty at Duke of Connaught's Proposal.

QUEEN LEADS PROCESSION

Her Manner an Indication that the Condition of King Edward is Satisfactory—Earlier Coronation Is Looked For.

Latest King Bulletin.
BUCKINGHAM PALACE, LONDON, July 1, 7 P. M. (London time).—The advancement in the King's condition is maintained.

His appetite is improving, and the dressing of his wound is less painful.

His Majesty is still easily fatigued on the least exertion.
TREVEES, LAKING, BARLOW.

LONDON, July 1.—To-day's review of the Colonial and Indian troops at the Horse Guards parade was the first recompense London had for the deferred pageantry of the coronation. The military spectacle was brilliant in the extreme, and popular enthusiasm found proper vent when the Queen appeared in person riding in the first carriage in the royal procession at the parade grounds.

The reappearance to-day of Queen Alexandra as a participant in this public ceremony practically marks the end of the period of anxiety caused by King Edward's illness.

Queen in Open Carriage.

The Queen was seated in an open carriage, beside her was the Princess of Wales, and opposite Her Majesty were the Princess Victoria and Princess Charles of Denmark.

Among the interesting onlookers was Prince "Eddy" and his children of the Prince and Princess of Wales. All the Colonial Premiers, Indian Princes and other guests of the nation were present.

The troops quickly marched past the Queen's carriage, the Prince of Wales drove slowly in and out of the lines and the Prince of Wales closely inspected the troops and dismounted and conferred medals and crosses on those who had merited the honor, shaking hands with the recipients of the Victoria Cross.

Three Cheers for King.

Then followed the most picturesque feature of the day. The Duke of Connaught, at the head of the troops, and facing the Prince of Wales, in clear tones gave the command:

"The Parade will give three cheers for the King," and himself started the "hip, hip!"

In a second the refrain was taken up all along the line.

Helmet, caps and campaign hats were in waving confusion at the bayonet's point, and the assembled crowds joined in with equal vigor.

A man in the Canadian ranks shouted "A tiger!" at which the troops and crowd once more yelled themselves hoarse.

STABBED IN FIGHT OVER BOARD BILL.

Long Island Man Got Probably Fatal Wound When He Tried to Prevent Lodger Leaving Without Paying.

(Special to The Evening World.)

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., July 1.—Patrick O'Brien, a mason, who roomed at Louis Raddie's boarding-house, went there intoxicated early to-day and attempted to take out his belongings and leave without paying a board bill due.

Raddie tried to stop him, and a fight followed. O'Brien drew a knife and slashed Raddie in the stomach, inflicting a bad wound that may cause death.

A search is being made for O'Brien, who fled after the stabbing.

A GLAD CHINK TIME.

Big Chinese Festival at Coney Island and Thursday Evening.

The big Chinese wedding for which thousands of invitations are sent which will be given at Gold Dollar's Dancing Pavilion, Henderson's Walk, Coney Island, Thursday night, under the direction of Marty Martin, will be attended with remarkable festivities, all of Oriental character. There will be a monster Chinese chorus, a mammoth Chinese cake-walk, Chinese dancing and a Chinese drama, "Chi-Yan," which means in English "The Dark Secret." It will be a great night.

On the evening of July 25 at Blank's Dancing Pavilion, on the Bowery, Coney Island, all the chief features of this wedding will be repeated for the benefit of the Sick Babies' fund. Mr. Martin, assisted by George Bell, will have the direction of the entertainment. Mr. Bell will secure a lot of Caucasian talent to help out the Chinese and he expects after the big Chinese cake walk to put on Matty Matthews and an able antagonist in a six-round bout. A Chinese play, "The Smuggled Girl," will be given. The amateur fund, Miss Wong Fong, is a real character, and she is to be the bride of the wedding Thursday night. The wedding ceremony will be performed by the officiating clergyman, who will be the high priest of the Mott street Joss house.

Up-State Railroad Deal.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 1.—An announcement was made to-day in a notice to all employees, that the Rochester and Albany Company will, beginning July 1, assume control of the Rochester and Albany Railway Company.

AOTRESS ASKS $50,000 FOR A CORSET "AD."

Miss Grantley Says It Made Her Look Uncouth, Unrefined Rude, Vulgar and Ordinary.

Helen Grantley

Weingarten Brothers, corset manufacturers, the defendants in an action brought by Helen Grantley, an actress, to recover $50,000 for an alleged libel, to-day served an answer upon Louis Lasky, the plaintiff's attorney.

The plaintiff alleges that she is a married woman of good repute and living with her husband, having a large circle of friends and acquaintances, whose highest respect and esteem she commands. The defendant firm, on May 12, 1901, published an advertisement in which a picture of the plaintiff appeared in which Miss Grantley alleges, she was represented as in a partial state of undress.

"This picture was published," she avers, "for the purpose of prominently attracting the attention of the public to the plaintiff, and with the intention of scandalously, maliciously and wickedly bringing before the public, or causing the public to believe, that the said plaintiff had allowed herself to be photographed while in the state and occupation of undressing, and with the intention, insinuation and intimidation of bringing her into public scandal, disgrace, infamy and contumely."

The publication is alleged to have

HE HAD THREE WIVES THOUGH ONLY TWENTY.

Annulment of Madge Schenck's Marriage Reveals Young Towers's Triple Alliance.

The marriage of Alfred Walsh and Madge Schenck by Rev. Mr. Waller, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, of Flushing, last night, disclosed the fact that the present Mrs. Walsh was married three years ago to one Frank Towers, and that the marriage was annulled last week by Supreme Court Justice Garrison.

The young woman proved that Towers had two other wives, although he was but twenty years old when she married him.

Both Mr. Walsh and his bride are prominent in Flushing social circles, and the marriage and its preliminaries are the sole subjects of gossip there to-day. The fact that Mrs. Walsh had been married was known to few, and none but those intimately connected knew that she had brought suit for annulment.

DYE WORKERS VOTE TO PROLONG STRIKE

Men Who Returned to Paterson Factories Again Out and All Ready to Fight Ten Weeks More.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PATERSON, N. J., July 1.—The striking dyers have again presented a bold front to their employers, having succeeded in getting out most of the men who returned to work. It developed at the meeting to-day that the employers had detectives watching the Executive Committee of the union for the past six weeks.

The expected break in the strike may not now materialize for some weeks longer, the strikers enthusiastically endorsing the motion at the meeting that they remain out ten weeks more, if necessary in order to win their struggle.

PLUSH FACTORY BURNED.

(Special to The Evening World.)
PATERSON, N. J., July 1.—Fire of a suspicious origin destroyed the three-story brick mill of the Peerless Plush Company, at Keen and Franklin streets, early to-day.

The Peerless Plush Company is an adjunct to the Amley and Bellamy Silk Company. Thousands of dollars worth of stock in the mill was destroyed. The loss on the building and its contents will foot up about $150,000.

The unusually cool June has ended and July has set in, with a promise of heat that may make up by violence for its long delay.

Many well-to-do parents have taken or sent their little ones out of town, knowing how fatal summer is to children in this big, hot city. But there is an infinitely larger class of children who can get no relief such as this; who must not only bear the summer in town, but who must endure under the most terrible circumstances.

These are the children of the poor. They are crowded up in hot, tenement food often as all too powerful allies to the scorching heat. The playground of these tots is the narrow, malodorous street.

Small wonder, then, that they droop like withering flowers and succumb to one of the countless infantile maladies that are so rife in such weather and such surroundings.

Among these little sufferers the skilled doctors of the Evening World Sick Babies' Fund toil night and day, bringing relief and supplying free of charge medicine and (twice the occasion requires) good nourishing food.

The grand work the fund does can scarcely be exaggerated. But to carry on and increase that work money is needed. Every one is invited to contribute to this splendid cause. No sum is too small to be of use. Each penny counts, and will go toward the saving of some little life.

Contributions should be addressed to: The Cashier of The World, Pulitzer Building, New York City.

From Three Boys and a Girl.

LEGAL FIGHT FOR

HART'S $8,000,000.

Man Who Claims He Is a Nephew of the Late Third Avenue Railroad Magnate Opposes Will.

Joseph A. Hart, who claims to be a nephew of the late Henry Hart, founder of the Third Avenue Railroad Company, has not yet abandoned his fight to get possession of a share of the $8,000,000 left by Mr. Hart, who died last November.

Lawyer Maurice W. Hart, upon an order granted by Surrogate Fitzgerald, moved to-day before Surrogate Thomas to have the probate of the will of Mr. Hart, under which Mrs. Elizabeth Lyon, a daughter of Abraham Hart, and niece of the testator, was left his entire estate, set aside, charging that the court had been imposed on by Mrs. Lyon in her petition for the probate of the will.

Mr. Hart asserted that Mrs. Lyon had represented herself as the only issue of Abraham Hart, whereas she knew that her half-brother, Joseph A. Hart, the petitioner, was living.

He asserted that Mrs. Lyon had been guilty of fraud and perjury.

E. B. De Groove, of the law firm of Riker & De Groove, opposed the motion and claimed that everything had been done regularly, and that Mrs. Lyon had told nothing but the truth in her petition. She denied that Joseph A. Hart was a brother of hers or a son of her father's.

Mr. De Groove said that $1,000 had been paid to Hart by Mrs. Lyon to get rid of any annoyance by him, and he had signed a release of any claim he might have against Henry Hart's estate.

Lawyer Hart said that $5,000 worth of stock in the Third Avenue Railroad Company had been given to Hart by Mrs. Lyon at the time he accepted the $1,000, received half of that sum, and that Hart was immediately incapacitated at that time.

"You have no sympathy from me on the state of facts as presented," said Surrogate Thomas, "but I shall take the papers and consider the matter. I am not disposed to grant you any further delay."

"Your Honor knows I want no favors," replied Mr. Hart, warmly, "but this court has been imposed upon. If Mrs. Lyon has committed perjury, and the court should clear her record, Surrogate Thomas then reserved his decision."

Thomas H. Wright, seventeen years old, who was employed as an assistant stowage steward on the American liner St. Louis, was arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Alexander in the Federal Building, on a charge of grand larceny committed on the high seas.

Wright admitted the theft and a portion of the stolen goods was recovered. On June 25 Miss Wilhelmina Williamson, a passenger on the St. Louis, missed her satchel containing a gold watch and chain and a gold bracelet, a diamond ring and $15 in cash. She complained to Chief Steward Penon, who played detective and finally accused Wright of the theft.

The boy confessed and most of the plunder was found under his berth. He had thrown the grip and a watch overboard.

LONDON, July 1.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Paris says that Leon Cavalli, the composer, has fled in despair to an obscure part of Italy, leaving no address, to escape telegrams from Emperor William.

HOMES LOOTED AS POLICE WAIT.

Half a Dozen Burglaries and Two Thief Chases in Brooklyn Last Night.

Burglaries.

Besides half a dozen burglaries in Brooklyn last night there were two thief chases in which shots were fired. So many burglaries in one night make it appear that there is an easy game in Brooklyn. Why it is easy was explained in the Gates Avenue Court to-day when William Wilson and John Pfister were arraigned for entering the home of John McNamee, a millionaire contractor at No. 237 Jefferson avenue.

Mr. McNamee and his family are away for the summer and the house was in care of Private Watchman O'Connell. At 4:30 o'clock this morning he was fired at and the men captured.

O'Connell telephoned to the Gates Avenue station and Detective Walter Conlon and Policeman Harry McVeigh responded. He told them there were burglars in the house.

"You go in and chase them out," suggested Conlon.

"Go in yourselves and arrest them," said O'Connell. "You are policemen. I'm only a private watchman."

When the thieves came out they were fired at and the men captured.

Police Fired on Thief Chaser.

The other thief chase followed the robbery of Lewis Anderson, of No. 1027 De Kalb avenue. Mr. Anderson went to sleep in a vacant lot at Humboldt and Cook streets.

He was awakened by William Craft, alias Robe, of No. 32 Division street, and Frank Kramer, of No. 404 Grand street. They had annexed his money, amounting to $1.50 and his gold watch.

Henry Seller and Charles Roberts had seen the operation of the highwaymen and gave chase. In the mean time the cries of Anderson had alarmed Policemen Silvers and Nelson. They hurried to the scene and seeing Seller and Roberts running, opened fire with their revolvers.

Seller and Roberts stopped, there were explanations, and then the policemen caught the thieves.

Other Burglaries.

Other houses robbed last night were: L. Alderman, No. 400 Rockaway avenue, jewelry and silverware, loss $100; Mrs. Seigel, No. 34 Hicks street, gold watch, rings, clothing, valued at $100.

Mrs. Eleanor Hanrich, No. 291 Stockholm street, jewelry valued at $50; Mrs. Margaret Wood, No. 34 Stockholm street, silverware, clothing and money, loss $75.

Charles Gaba, No. 480 Third avenue, 100 pairs of shoes, valued at $100.
